TEACHERS RESIGNED.

School Trustees Held Meeting and Elected New Instructors.

SCHOOL OPENS AUG. 27.

Misses Nourse and Smithson Chosen to Fill Vacancies Thursday.

The trustees of the city public schools held a meeting Thursday morning. The resignations of Misses Adela Clifton and Susie Cox were laid before the board. The resignations of these ladies were accepted with regret. The vacancies in the teaching force were then filled by the election of Misses Virgie Nourse and Elizabeth Smithson.

Miss Nourse is a daughter of Rev. W. L. Nourse, D. D., of this city, late pastor of the First Presbyterian church. She has had considerable experience in teaching in Greenville, Madisonville and other places. She received her education here, having graduated from the public schools as well as South Kentucky College, and is well qualified for the position she has been chosen to fill.

Miss Smithson is a daughter of Mr. James A. Smithson, who has recently taken up his residence here. She is a young lady of fine intellect, has always been a close student, and has taught for several years in different schools of the county.

Miss Adela Clifton, who has been one of the best teachers in the city schools, came here several years since from Clarksville and did her first work here in the public schools, where she has taught continuously up to the close of the year when she was unanimously re-elected to her old position. She resigned to accept a like position in the public schools of Oklahoma City. Miss Clifton's many friends in and out of the school regret that she is to leave them but all will unite in the wish that she may find a happy home in the West and that her new position may prove to be all that she hopes for.

Miss Cox is one of our own Hopkinsville young ladies, bright, popular, and during the five years she has been teaching in the schools has demonstrated her eminent fitness for the care of children in the school room as well as imparting information to the seeker after knowledge. The trustees and Superintendent Hamlett protested against her resigning, but when made acquainted with the plans of Miss Cox for the future, had to accept her resignation. Mrs. Alex Cox, who died last Sunday morning, a short time before her death gave her only child, a boy of only two and a half years, to Miss Susie Cox and asked her to raise her child to manhood. Miss Cox complied with the request of her much loved sister-in-law, and for that reason surrendered her place in the public schools and will devote her life to taking care of her little charge and keeping house for her brother. No one can help but admire the self-sacrifice and nobility of soul of the young lady in her decision.

The public schools of the city will open Monday, September 27. Superintendent Hamlett, in connection with the trustees, is busy preparing for the event. Prof. Hamlett is an enthusiast in his work. He has held his position but one year, but it didn't take a fourth of that time to convince the trustees and the public that he is in every way fitted for the responsible place as the head of our school system and that as long as he is with us our schools will retain the high standard of excellence which Hopkinsville's reputation for model graded schools will be enduring.

LANDLORD HOLEMAN, Of Arcadia Hotel, Dawson, Dies of Paralysis.

N. M. Holeman, proprietor of the Arcadia Hotel, at Dawson Springs, and one of the most prominent business men in Hopkins county, died Thursday afternoon. Death was caused by a stroke of paralysis which came Wednesday evening.

Mr. Holeman was widely known. He was the father of H. H. Holeman, vice president of the Morton Bank; N. L. Holeman, of Dawson Springs; and Mrs. J. F. Dempsey, of Madisonville. He was taken to Madisonville for interment.

Mrs. Geo. Dalton and Miss Eva Rowley have been called from Dawson Springs to attend the funeral.

Gov. Beckham Defends His Administration.

Fires Opening Gun of His Campaign.

Defends His Administration Against Traducers and Presses His Claim for the Senatorship.

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 15.—Before a large audience in the mammoth Auditorium Governor Beckham made the opening speech in his race for the Democratic nomination for the United States Senate. His speech was as follows:

The Democratic Administration of Kentucky presents to the people the record of its services for their impartial and unprejudiced consideration. It stands before the judgment bar of their sovereign will with no apologies to offer and no secret to conceal. In the judgment of the people, it is the duty of the administration to defend its record and to press its claim for the Senatorship.

The honor of my name as a public official is more to me than any other honor. I have no more than any other of future preference. The honor of my name as a public official is more to me than any other honor. I have no more than any other of future preference.

GOV. J. C. W. BECKHAM.

My friends, I am not here to defend my administration. I am here to defend my country. I am here to defend the people. I am here to defend the principles of the Democratic party. I am here to defend the principles of the Constitution. I am here to defend the principles of the Republic.

The next cause of offense to these all is the fact that I am using the power I had as Governor in obeying the Constitution of the State, which had taken it upon me to uphold the law. I am here to defend the law. I am here to defend the principles of the Republic.

Let us now take up the Senator's hostile attitude to the Democratic Administration. It is a record of failure. It is a record of defeat. It is a record of loss. It is a record of shame. It is a record of disgrace. It is a record of ruin. It is a record of destruction. It is a record of death.

So it has been from history's dawn that success has been the mark of the man who has been able to stand up to the enemy. It is the duty of the man who has been able to stand up to the enemy. It is the duty of the man who has been able to stand up to the enemy. It is the duty of the man who has been able to stand up to the enemy.

To honestly and successfully administer the affairs of our proud old Commonwealth.

That the State Administration has made more enemies in one day than it could not have faithfully executed its duties without doing so, must concede. The character and nature of its opposition are even more a testimony of its inability to duty than are the evidence of its success and the praise of its friends.

All of this fight is largely due to the fact that I am now a candidate for the United States Senate, and during these years of Democratic control in Kentucky in this contest has formed an ally as well as a secret ally with those who are making the primary this year.

I believe the people of Kentucky know me well enough to expect that I shall not fail to fearlessly open an antagonist, whether he comes wearing the false cry of a Democrat or the open guise of a Republican. I have accepted the challenge of opposition before, and I shall not hesitate to meet them here.

My opponent for the Democratic nomination in this primary is the Hon. James B. McCreary, seeking a nomination for that office, and for whom I have no personal feeling. I believe in his character as a gentleman, and I believe in his ability as a politician. I believe in his character as a gentleman, and I believe in his ability as a politician.

The honor of my name as a public official is more to me than any other honor. I have no more than any other of future preference. The honor of my name as a public official is more to me than any other honor. I have no more than any other of future preference.

Senator McCreary in this contest has made his policy a campaign against the Democratic Administration. He has made his policy a campaign against the Democratic Administration. He has made his policy a campaign against the Democratic Administration.

His second issue of the campaign is to rally to his support and array against the Democratic Administration. He has made his policy a campaign against the Democratic Administration. He has made his policy a campaign against the Democratic Administration.

will demand your attention, for reflect on the fact that the State government is now in a state of financial distress, and that the people are suffering from the consequences of this state of affairs.

In this he was compelled to ask a remedy for the financial condition of the State government. In another place, and I want to call your attention to these criticisms administered not by a rival candidate, but by a successful officer of the State government, Gov. Blackburn says, "I do not think it can be forgotten that on the 15th day of August, 1897, a short time before the State government was in office, the Auditor was compelled to stop the drawing of warrants on the treasury, for the reason that the Treasurer was not in funds to pay them."

The Auditor's report which will be laid before you in due time, will show that there was a surplus balance in the treasury on the 15th day of October last, 1897, the close of the fiscal year, 1897, but unfortunately, this report is totally and utterly delusive in this, that at the very time there was a large amount of outstanding and unpaid claims against the treasury, which were not paid, and consequently the report is false.

He further says that the estimated deficit for the 18th of October, 1897, was $20,000. This deficit of course was the legitimate consequence of the financial mistakes of Gov. McCreary's administration. I believe that the people of Kentucky are a complete answer to the boasts of Gov. McCreary that he has made Kentucky what his administration of the State of Government.

In 1875 he entered the office of Governor and a good many of us were present. He left it in 1879 with the doors of the treasury closed, and the people of Kentucky were left a penny in their pockets. He left the treasury in a state of financial distress, and the people of Kentucky were left a penny in their pockets.

Mr. Walter F. Garnett, Agent,
New York Life Insurance Co.,
City.

Dear Sir:— It gives me pleasure to acknowledge receipt of statement of optional settlement on 20-Payment Life Policy, No. 223,596, for $1,500.00, issued at age 35, with premium of $52.50, taken out with you Apr. 27, '86. After having been insured for 20 years, I am offered a paid up policy for $1,500 and a cash dividend of $406.88, or the total value may be withdrawn in cash—$1,215.88, (which is more than I have paid in the 20 years) or a fully paid up policy payable at my death for $2,215.00. The cash settlement of $1,215.88 is equal to Term Insurance at $12.87 per $1,000 and an investment of the balance of premiums with 5 per cent compound interest for twenty years. This showing is certainly a creditable one for the New York Life, and I will be pleased to give you my application for $1,000 on the Ordinary Life plan.

Yours very truly, C. E. WEST.

J. Rogers Barr Dying at Lexington.

Lexington, Ky., Aug. 16.—J. Rogers Barr, general manager of the Lexington and Eastern railroad, with headquarters here, son of Judge J. W. Barr, of Louisville, is lying ill at St. Joseph's hospital with no hope of his recovery. The nurses to-night say that he is in a dying condition, although he may possibly live for a day or more. Mr. Barr is forty years of age. He was graduated at Princeton College in 1885, and twelve years ago came to Lexington and became general manager of the Lexington and Eastern railroad, which position he has held continuously since. He married Miss Lizzie Wood, of Hopkinsville, daughter of Hunter Wood, a prominent citizen of that city. They have two young children.

MERCANTILE AGENCY COMING.

James Agency Expects to Open a Branch Office
Here Soon.

The James Mercantile Agency, with headquarters in Nashville, expects to open an office here soon, and the business men of the city are sufficiently interested to co-operate in the plan. Mr. Bailey, a representative of the company, will present the matter to the business people and if a branch is established Chas. O. Prowse will have charge of it.

The plan is to make up a commercial directory of the county, in which every man who ever does business here shall be rated, his rating being based upon reports furnished by those he does business with. A copy of this directory will be placed in the hands of every subscriber and will doubtless be of great value to the credit man of the firm.

CHILD INJURED

By the Reckless Driving of a Negro Boy.

On Thursday afternoon Mrs. C. M. Day, of Crofton, who is visiting Mrs. B. M. Weaver, west of town, drove into the city and stopped in front of the residence of Dr. Sargent. Her little boy was in the buggy with her as well as two small children of Mrs. Weaver's. While Mrs. Day was in Dr. Sargent's office a negro boy, about 14 years of age, we are informed, drove at pretty good speed down the street and ran into the buggy containing the three children.

Mrs. Day's child was thrown out and badly cut on the neck, face and nose. Dr. Jackson was called and took five stitches in the wound in the neck. The other two children were not injured but badly scared. The boy will be arrested and receive justice at the hands of Judge James Breathitt. As we have repeatedly stated, reckless and careless driving is too common.

Cleveland Cowherd, a negro of this county, who has a reputation for all kinds of meanness and has been charged and tried for house-breaking, gaming, carrying concealed weapons, breach of the peace, etc., is now passing through the bars of the county jail. On information furnished the authorities of Clarksville he was arrested there Wednesday night. Deputy Sheriff Lucian Cravens went to Clarksville Thursday and induced Cowherd to come back with him without the trouble of getting a requisition from the Governor.

Mr. Albert Denier as a fun maker, and Miss Marie Saxet as a comedienne and vocalist, make as good top-liners of a musical comedy as can well be secured. In "A Soap Bubble," which comes to the Holland for one performance on Tuesday evening, August 21st, these two artists head a particularly strong company of farces, all of whom have been selected with more than usual care as to their special adaptability in the impersonation of the numerous roles, and the performance of the comedy is, in consequence, of the fun-fast-and-furious order, while the musical portion is of the newest and catchiest kind.

We will for the next ten days, beginning Monday, July 16, sell everything in the WALL PAPER line at greatly reduced prices. We mean business.

The Old Reliable Jewelry House of Hopkinsville, is, after all, the best place to get anything in the jewelry line. There's a record behind us, a record of over thirty years; a clean record of satisfied customers, a record of honest dealing, for honest quality, honest prices. It's a record any jeweler might feel proud of. And when we sell an article we have in mind that we have a record to maintain, and no slipshod methods, no careless workmanship, no lack of quality is ever allowed to mar the record of the past. But to improve, if possible, this record, is ever our aim, and goods are sold for as low a price as it is possible to sell reliable goods.

It will pay you in the end to deal with the Old Reliable Jeweler.

M. D. KELLY,

N. Main St., Opp. Court House.
